DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicant describes a knurled coupling element 44 in the specification at pg. 10 and a coupling element 44' with an interior cavity having knurled walls at pg. 13. The specification does not describe an element where no two adjacent transverse cross-sections exhibit discontinuity in area along the gripped portion. In Applicant's disclosed invention the presence of knurled surfaces gives discontinuities in adjacent transverse cross-sections.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the element where no two adjacent transverse cross-sections exhibit discontinuity in area along the gripped portion as recited in claims 1 and 8 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by NEER et al. (U. S. Patent No. 5,300,031). Neer shows a syringe having a barrel, plunger, coupling element 96, conical front, syringe mating sections comprising an annular flange fixed to the syringe body (See Figs. 4,5,11,12). The portion of the extension 96 gripped by a coupling mechanism has an outer cylindrical surface and therefore shows no discontinuities in adjacent transverse cross-sections. See fig. 12. Neer also discloses a movable face plate 127 movable by a rotatable lever 138 to facilitate syringe mounting. See Figs. 6-9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over NEER as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of DENSMORE (U. S. Patent No. 5,007,904). Neer discloses the claimed invention except for an interior cavity in the coupling element. Densmore teaches an interior cavity 38 in the coupling element (fig. 1). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use the interior cavity in order to securely attach a the head of a driving mechanism (4:12-20).
